PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

AeroCrepe elastic crepe bandages provide dependable support, retention and light compression for everyday first aid and clinical settings. Built from cotton crepe with elastic yarns, the bandage stretches comfortably to conform around limbs and joints while allowing normal movement. This balance of elasticity, softness and breathability makes it suitable for holding wound dressings in place, providing localised pressure, or giving supportive wrap to minor strains and swelling during short-term recovery.

The construction is non-sterile and latex free, supporting broad workplace and home use. Fray-resistant edges help maintain integrity during application and wear, while a slip-resistant texture assists with secure layering as the bandage is wrapped.

Designed for reliability in first aid kits, workplace cabinets and healthcare facilities, AeroCrepe presents a professional finish that is easy to apply and comfortable for the wearer. The material's air-permeable structure helps skin remain comfortable over extended periods, and the elastic return gives consistent compression without excessive bulk. From routine dressing retention to light compression techniques, the bandage helps users respond quickly and confidently to common injuries.
