PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

AeroCrepe cotton crepe bandages provide dependable, everyday support for dressing retention and light compression. The lightweight construction conforms comfortably to body contours, making it suitable for basic immobilisation techniques and securing secondary dressings. Built from cotton crepe, the bandage delivers breathable performance to help maintain skin comfort during wear while offering consistent stretch for reliable hold.

Each roll is supplied non-sterile and is designed for quick access in emergencies, with an easy-open wrapper that protects the contents until needed. The surface texture grips itself well when layered, allowing a secure wrap without excessive bulk. As a hypoallergenic, latex-free product, it is appropriate for a broad range of users and environments including workplace first aid, sports trainers, schools, and home kits.

The cotton crepe weave balances softness with durability. It is suitable for retaining gauze pads and cushioning, maintaining pressure over a compress, or providing light support to joints and limbs. Breathability assists with comfort over longer wear times, and the white colour makes soiling and saturation easy to assess during routine checks.

Designed for versatility and value, AeroCrepe bandages integrate smoothly into standard first aid workflows—from initial wound cleansing and padding through to secure retention and follow-up changes. They are an excellent choice where a reliable, conforming wrap is required without the rigidity of heavy compression products.
