AEROPAD NON-ADHERENT DRESSING 10 X 10CM BOX/50

dual-sided non-adherent contact layer helps minimise trauma during dressing changes, while the cushioned inner core draws fluid away from the site to support comfort. The dressing is sterile and latex free, making it suitable for use across workplaces, schools, clinics and home first aid kits.

The pad sits comfortably beneath securement such as film dressings, paper tapes or conforming bandages, allowing teams to build flexible wound-cover solutions for cuts, grazes and minor burns. Its low-lint, non-woven construction conforms to body contours and is easy to position for effective coverage on hands, joints and other high-movement areas.

Engineered for dependable performance, AeroPad™ helps standardise wound care across busy environments. The combination of a gentle non-adherent surface and an efficient absorbent layer supports practical changeovers and user comfort, making it a smart choice for day-to-day first aid readiness and clinical triage.

- Non-adherent contact layer: helps reduce pain and trauma on removal.
- Absorbent inner core: manages exudate for drier, more comfortable wear.
- Sterile and latex free: suitable for sensitive users and diverse settings.
- Soft, conformable pad: low lint design sits neatly under tape or film.

The Size: 10 × 10 cm pad delivers broader coverage for larger cuts, grazes and minor burns while remaining comfortable on contoured areas.

Supplied as a single sterile pad for quick kit top-ups and individual procedures. The individually sealed pouch supports hygiene and convenience while you pair it with film, tape or a conforming bandage.
