PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

AEROWOUND Finger Dressing is an all-in-one solution designed specifically for finger injuries that are difficult to cover with standard adhesive strips. It combines a 4.5 cm low-adherent, absorbent pad with an integrated gauze wrapping leader and a secure adhesive tab to create focused pressure and reliable coverage. The construction helps control bleeding and shields the wound from everyday contaminants. Each unit is sterile and individually enclosed for cleanliness and confidence at the point of use.

The soft, low-adherent contact layer minimises trauma during removal while the absorbent pad manages light exudate for comfortable wear between changes. A superior-stretch wrap conforms closely to finger contours and joints, maintaining a neat, secure hold during movement at work, home, or on the go. The dressing is latex-free and single use, making it a practical choice for first aid kits, workplace safety stations, mobile responders and training environments where a quick, hygienic response is essential.

By combining pad, wrap and closure in one sterile unit, AEROWOUND Finger Dressing reduces the number of separate components needed in kits and speeds up application when seconds matter. The integrated adhesive tab eliminates the need for extra fixation tape for most applications, simplifying set-up and helping users achieve a tidy, secure finish.

- All-in-one convenience: pad, wrap and adhesive tab simplify finger dressing.
- Sterile and single use: hygienic application when it matters.
- Low-adherent pad: helps reduce trauma on removal.
- Superior-stretch wrap: conforms to fingers for a secure fit.
- Compact pouch: easy to stock in first aid kits and vehicles.

Supplied as an envelope of 3 sterile finger dressings to streamline restocking and keep kits compact. A practical choice for workplaces and mobile responders needing multiple quick applications without bulky supplies.
