PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

The COMMANDER 6 Series Food & Beverage Kit Refill is designed to fully refresh a comprehensive workplace first aid kit for environments where food and drink are prepared, handled, or served. It supports a high level of readiness for incidents in commercial kitchens, food manufacturing lines, hospitality venues, canteens, cafes, and busy staff lunchrooms. The refill layout helps restore a broad mix of wound care, bandaging, cleansing, and protection items so that first aiders can respond quickly when accidents happen.

This refill focuses on practical, everyday injuries that occur in food and beverage settings, such as cuts from knives or equipment, minor burns from hot surfaces or liquids, and small eye or skin irritations. A wide range of dressing and bandage formats helps first aiders match the product to the type and location of the injury, whether on fingers, hands, arms, or other exposed areas. Clearly identified components support fast selection in time-critical situations at work or in the home.

The refill format is ideal for organisations that already have a compliant wall cabinet or portable case and simply need to restore used or expired contents. It is also well suited to service providers who maintain workplace first aid systems across multiple sites. By standardising refills, workplaces can maintain consistency between locations and make it easier for staff to recognise and use the items inside, whether they are in the main kitchen, bar area, production floor, or office kitchen.

As part of a wider first aid program, this refill helps maintain confidence that a kit is well stocked for both routine and higher volume usage. It supports duty of care obligations in workplaces and provides peace of mind for staff and visitors. Keeping a refill on hand also makes it easier to top up a kit immediately after an incident so that the workplace, vehicle, or household is ready for the next emergency.

- Comprehensive workplace support: ideal for busy food and beverage environments.
- Efficient restocking: restores used or expired items in an existing kit.
- Versatile injury coverage: supports treatment of cuts, minor burns, and everyday workplace incidents.
- Consistent layout: helps staff quickly recognise and locate essential items.
- Suitable for multiple settings: useful for commercial kitchens, hospitality, workplace lunchrooms, and household first aid.

This refill set is designed as a comprehensive food and beverage refill option, ideal where a high-capacity first aid kit is required to support busy kitchens, hospitality venues, and large household cooking areas.

Supplied as 1 complete refill unit, this option is ideal when a single high-capacity food and beverage first aid kit needs to be brought back to full readiness without replacing the case or cabinet.
