PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

The AeroKit Defender 3 Series Plastic Waterproof First Aid Kit is designed as a compact, dependable solution for treating unexpected injuries in everyday environments. Housed in a durable plastic case with weather resistant construction, it helps protect the contents from dust, splashes and general wear so supplies stay ready to use when needed. The 25 cm x 8 cm x 17 cm footprint is slim enough to fit in cupboards, on shelves or in a vehicle, while still offering generous internal space for a well organised selection of first aid items.

This kit supports rapid, initial treatment of common injuries such as minor cuts, grazes, burns, sprains and eye irritation. A thoughtfully selected mix of dressings, bandages, eye wash, burn treatments and basic instruments allows users to respond quickly at home, on the road or during leisure activities. Clear internal layout makes it easy to locate items, helping reduce stress when dealing with an incident.

The Defender 3 Series range is suitable for households, vehicles, small workplaces and recreational settings that need a reliable all in one first aid solution. The robust plastic case is ideal for environments where the kit may be moved frequently between locations or exposed to changing weather, such as in cars, caravans, boats or outdoor sheds. Strong latches and a practical carry handle enhance portability so the kit can be taken to the scene of an injury with minimal delay.

This kit aligns with expectations for consumer first aid kits and is identified with ARTG No. 142658, giving added reassurance about its purpose for the rapid, initial treatment of injuries. It is well suited to family homes, rental properties, office kitchens, warehouses, delivery vehicles and holiday accommodation, providing peace of mind that essential first aid equipment is close at hand.
