PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

The AeroKit Voyager 2 Series Plastic Neat First Aid Kit is a compact, portable first aid solution designed to keep essential supplies organised and ready when accidents happen. Housed in a bright, easy to spot plastic case, it suits busy households, vehicles, small workplaces and travellers who need reliable coverage without carrying bulky equipment. The case is shaped with a comfortable handle and has a neat rectangular profile that slides easily into cupboards, drawers, under seats or on a shelf in the garage or workshop.

This kit range supports rapid, initial care for minor injuries such as small cuts, grazes, blisters and everyday mishaps. Inside, items are arranged so they can be quickly identified and reached when needed, helping users stay calm and focused in stressful situations. The hard case construction offers added protection from dust, splashes and knocks, making it suitable for use in vehicles, boats, caravans and around the home. Measuring approximately 17.5 cm wide, 7 cm deep and 19 cm high, the Voyager 2 Series case balances generous internal space with a slim profile that fits easily in confined spaces.

The Voyager 2 Series Plastic Neat First Aid Kit works well as a dedicated car or home kit, or as a top up option alongside larger first aid stations. It is practical for family outings, road trips, sports days and weekend projects where a quick response can make day to day injuries less disruptive. The organised layout supports confident use by people with limited first aid experience, while still offering the structure appreciated by more experienced first aiders. Its robust, wipe clean exterior stands up to regular handling in active environments.
